

For Immediate Release

Munroe Sutton boosts UK dental network to 2,000 participating dentists

London – Aug. 27, 2015 -- Munroe Sutton, the leading UK provider of discount plans for dental treatment, is today announcing the expansion of its UK network of dentists providing access to discounted dental treatment to over 2,000 practices.

The addition of the new dentists means Munroe Sutton's UK dental network has over doubled from 800 practices in the beginning of the year and customers can now benefit from extensive national coverage.

Rob Malvasi, Head of Business Development at Munroe Sutton, said:

"We have invested in expanding our network so that more people can benefit from our dental discount plans which offer instant savings on private dental care. This affordably priced discount programme makes affording private health care a simple choice. Simply put, a company or a consumer pays a low monthly fee for access to dentists who have agreed to provide their services at discounted rates.

This isn't just for individuals but, also for insurance companies who are looking to contain their claims costs and enhance the benefit available to their policyholders. These programmes are also available to large employers as employee benefits, brokers, financial institutions and membership bodies who are interested in providing their members with access to a benefit which can save them money on the cost of every day healthcare from the day they sign up.

It is the start of our significant growth plans for the UK in 2015 where we plan to help more people have access to private healthcare by reducing the cost of treatment, regardless of whether they have an insurance plan in place."

About Munroe Sutton:

Munroe Sutton is the UK's leading provider of discount plans which help individuals save on the cost of everyday health care. Our products offer discounts of up to 20% on the cost of dental, optical, hearing and other healthcare and are available through insurers, employers, brokers as well as direct to individuals.

Munroe Sutton is part of the Careington International Corporation (www.careington.com) which is headquartered in Frisco, Texas, USA. Since 1979, Careington International Corporation has provided affordable, money-saving solutions to more than 10 million members. Our products compliment existing insurance plans and offers those without health insurance access to discounted private healthcare.

About Careington International Corporation:

Since 1979, Careington International Corporation (www.careington.com) has provided affordable, money-saving solutions to 10 million members. Dedicated to improving individual health and well-being by providing affordable access to care, Careington's health and wellness products are designed to deliver consumer savings. Careington's non-insurance discount plans can be marketed as stand-alone products or can complement more traditional insurance options to deliver savings for under-insured or uninsured individuals.

For further information please contact:

Munroe Sutton Press Office

Richard Edwards / Rachel Hessegrave

01442 200971

###